NATURE OF ACTION

1. This is a proposed Class Action Complaint against Defendants, Batten Industries Inc., a Canadian corporation; Batten Industries (US) Inc., a Washington corporation, and Batten Services (US) Inc., a Washington corporation (collectively, "Batten" or "Defendant"), for falsely, misleadingly and deceptively labeling its kitchen and bathroom cleaning and laundry products as "All Natural" when these products, in fact, are not all natural and contain synthetic and toxic ingredients.

2. In recent years, consumers have become significantly more aware and sensitive to the toxicity and impact of household products on their health, the health of their children, and the general environment. As a result, demand has increased for so-called "green" products that are naturally derived, environmentally sound, non-toxic, and non-injurious to consumers and their health.

3. Importantly, consumers seek both healthier and ethically superior performance in preferring natural products, and consumers are willing to pay a premium for such products. Batten knows this.

4. Responsive to trending consumer preferences for natural products, Defendant maintains an enterprise ostensibly built around providing consumers with purportedly "All Natural Nellie's" products for the kitchen, laundry and bathroom (hereinafter, "Product" or "Products") that are safe, clean, eco-friendly, cruelty-free, organic, and that do not cause any health issues. Batten, a Canadian corporation, boldly, and falsely, proclaims that it offers "All Natural" products while United States manufacturers dare not do so.

that even its website address contains the words "all natural," to wit:

Defendant's public image has been carefully cultivated to the extent following synthetic ingredients: Alkyl Polyglycoside, Cocoamidopropyl Amine Oxide, Cocoamidopropyl Betaine Laureth-7, Lauryl Alcohol Ethoxylate 7 Mole, Linear Alcohol Ethoxylate, Sodium Percarbonate, Sodium Metasilicate, Sodium Metasilicate, Pentahydrate Sodium Silicate.

12. Defendant know that its Products are not all natural, but nonetheless advertise and market them in a manner intended to mislead and deceive consumers.As a result, Defendant is able to unjustly profit at consumers' expense.

13. Plaintiff brings this action individually, and on behalf of the proposed 11 Classes as more fully defined below. This action concerns certain unfair and 12 13 deceptive consumer sales practices of Defendants attendant to their offline and online 14 advertising and sale, in the United States, of its Products. Specifically, Batten has 15 breached its express "All-Natural" warranty and is in violation of the California 16 17 Consumers Legal Remedies Act, Civil Code § 1750, et seq. ("CLRA"), the Unfair 18 Competition Law, California Business and Professions Code § 17200, et seq. 19 ("UCL"), and the False Advertising Law, California Business and Professions Code 20 21 § 17500, et seq. ("FAL").

Through this action Plaintiff seeks injunctive relief, actual damages, restitution and/or disgorgement of profits, statutory damages, attorneys' fees, costs,

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

2 15. This Court has original jurisdiction of this action under the Class Action Fairness Act of 2005. The amount in controversy, upon information and belief, 4 exceeds the sum or value of $5,000,000, exclusive of interest and costs, and this is a 5 6 class action in which certain of the class members and Defendants are citizens of 7 different states as required by 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2). 8 This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant because it is 16. 9 10 authorized to do business, and currently does business, in this State. 11 17. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(a) because 12 substantial acts in furtherance of the alleged improper conduct, including the 13 14 dissemination of false and misleading information regarding the nature, quality, 15 and/or ingredients of the Products, occurred within this District. 16 PARTIES 17 18 18. Plaintiff is and was a resident of Los Angeles, California, at all times 19 relevant to this action. Plaintiff, thus, is a citizen of California. 20 Defendant, Batten Industries Inc., is a Canadian corporation with its 19. 21

22 principal place of business at 114 2455 Dollarton Hwy North Vancouver BC, 23 Canada, V7h0a2. 24

20. Defendants, Batten Industries (US) Inc. and Batten Services (US) Inc., 25 26 are Washington corporations, affiliates of and directly controlled by Batten 27 Industries, Inc. (Canada) their parent company, with an address of 925 Boblett Strett, 28

In the Los Angeles area, for example, Nellie's brand products 6 are sold in about 20 retail outlets. Additionally, Batten has its own proprietary 7 website and e-commerce retail storefronts on Amazon, eBay, Walmart, Target, and 8 9 many other popular ecommerce platforms.

22. Batten purposefully avails itself of the California/U.S. consumer 11 market, and directly or indirectly distributes the Products to hundreds and thousands 12 13 of locations within this District, State and nation every day.

2 29. The United States household cleaner/laundry products industry has annual revenues in the range of $20 billion. Approximately 3% of that total, or $600 million, is for "green" products. Green products are significantly more expensive than regular products and, for that reason, in part, the green segment of the house cleaner market remains a small niche.⁵

9 30. Defendant has tapped into this multi-billion dollar industry, 10 misleadingly marketing its Products as "All-Natural" and deceiving consumers into 12 purchasing Products that they believe are all natural, which, in fact, contain synthetic 13 ingredients.

14 31. Given the strong demand for "all natural" products, it is not surprising
16 that Defendant utilizes packaging (and its own website) stating, prominently, "All17 Natural."

32. Seeking to profit on consumers' desire to locate and use all natural, environmentally sound, non-abrasive, and non-injurious detergent and house cleaner alternatives to standard offerings, Defendant markets the Products as "All-Natural" and free from harmful chemicals, providing environmental and safety benefits that traditional detergents do not.

Metasilicate Pentahydrate Sodium Silicate. Such ingredients cannot be characterized as "natural," and, thus, Defendant's representations about the Products' natural quality are false and misleading.

5 37. The Laundry Soda that Plaintiff purchased, which Defendant 6 represented to be "All-Natural" at the time of Plaintiff's purchase, contains AE. This 7 ingredient carries risks that "all natural" products do not carry.⁸ One byproduct of 8 9 ethoxylation is 1,4-dioxane, a possible human carcinogen. Undiluted AE's can cause 10 dermal or eye irritation. In aqueous solution, the level of irritation is dependent on 11 the concentration. AE's are considered to have low to moderate toxicity for acute 12 13 oral exposure, low acute dermal toxicity, and have mild irritation potential for skin 14 and eyes at concentrations found in consumer products. 15

- 38. A reasonable consumer purchasing a product identified as "AllNatural" would not expect the product to contain synthetic ingredients subject to contamination by 1,4-dioxane. Indeed, Plaintiff purchased the Product expecting it to contain only natural ingredients and has been damaged insofar as the Products did not contain only natural ingredients.
- 39. Many of the ingredients contained in the Products are the result of complex, multi-step processes that involve the use of toxic chemicals. The end products are substances which do not exist in nature, and which could not exist

4	40. Consumers are frequently disappointed with the Laundry Soda, the
5	Product Plaintiff purchased, both due to irritation and cleaning performance,
6 7	reviewing the Laundry Soda as follows: ⁹
7 8	• It does not do what it says it will. Received a chemical burn from
9	wearing clothes washed in this.Causes rashes when used on cloth diapers. Does not clean at all!
10	• I know we want an eco friendly, chemical free detergent for our laundry
11	but we also want something that actually works in removing at least the smell on our clothes and simple stains they derive from food.
12	• This crap stains your clothes badly, ruined a huge batch of work clothes,
13	totally screwed me over, do NOT BUY. I got some all natural laundry powder from cal bens pure soap co. That actually worked.
14	• I wish I would not have spent a hard earned 20.00 on this. It says All-
15	Natural on the box, but look at the ingredients and they are: all natural laundry soda (i assume they mean sodium carbonate), sodium silicate
16	and COCONUT OIL BASED DETERGENT. I have found that when
17	the words "based detergent" are used it is a synthetic chemical of some sort.
18	• I used Nellie's for over a year, until I found out they were using SLES
19	(Sodium Lauryl Ether Sulphate[sic]) in their products. I noticed SLES on the label of one of their dish detergent soaps, and that particular
20	retailer called the company to ask them. They said that there are only
21	trace amounts, but they don't stipulate this on their label. Next time you look at the packaging, notice that they do not list their ingredients. This
22	is very sneaky. I stopped using this product, because they are trying to
23	deceive the consumer into thinking it's "Eco-friendly" when in actual fact, it's not. I would recommend Charlie's Soap instead.

1 law, exists to protect commercial and consumer interests in accurate label 2 representations as to source, because consumers rely on the accuracy of those 3 representations in making their buying decisions." Kwikset Corp. v. Superior Court, 4 5 51 Cal.4th 310, 328 (Cal. 2011) (internal citations omitted). 6 45. Through its conduct alleged above, Defendant has violated the UCL, 7 FAL and CLRA, which were enacted to protect California consumers. Defendant's 8 9 conduct violates the UCL, which prohibits "any unlawful, unfair or fraudulent 10 business act or practice and unfair, deceptive, untrue or misleading advertising ..." 11 Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200. An act can be alleged to violate any or all of the 12 13 three prongs of the UCL – unlawful, unfair, or fraudulent. Berryman v. Merit Prop. 14 Mgmt., Inc., 152 Cal. App. 4th 1544, 1554 (2007). "[W]hether a business practice is 15 deceptive will usually be a question of fact not appropriate for decision or demurrer," 16 17 such that granting a motion to dismiss is appropriate only in "the rare situation." 18 Williams v. Gerber Products Co., 552 F.3d 934, 938-39 (9th Cir. 2008). The purpose 19 of the UCL is to protect consumers by promoting fair competition in the markets for 20 21 goods and services, and its provisions are intended to be broad. By proscribing "any 22 unlawful" business act or practice, the UCL "borrows" rules set out in other laws and 23 24 makes violations of those rules independently actionable. However, a practice may 25 violate the UCL even if it is not prohibited by another statute. Unfair and fraudulent 26 practices are alternate grounds for relief and mis-description of specific 27 28 characteristics of a product are actionable as well. Plaintiff alleges specifically the

1 words "All-Natural" are false and misleading because some of the ingredients in the 2 Products are synthetic and not natural. Defendant's conduct violates the FAL, and, 3 in addition, false advertising is included in the "fraudulent" category of prohibited 4 5 practices. In re Tobacco II Cases, 46 Cal.4th 298, 311-312, 93 Cal.Rptr.3d 559, 207 6 P.3d 20 (2009). Section 17500 provides, in part: "It is unlawful for any person, firm, 7 corporation or association, or any employee thereof with intent directly or indirectly 8 9 to dispose of real or personal property ... to make or disseminate or cause to be made 10 or disseminated before the public in this state ... in any newspaper or other 11 publication, or any advertising device, or by public outcry or proclamation, or in any 12 13 other manner or means whatever, including over the Internet, any statement, 14 concerning that real or personal property ... or performance or disposition thereof, 15 which is untrue or misleading, and which is known, or which by the exercise of 16 17 reasonable care should be known, to be untrue or misleading...." Section 17500 was 18 intended to be comprehensive and has been broadly construed to proscribe "not only 19 advertising which is false, but also advertising which[,] although true, is either 20 21 actually misleading or which has a capacity, likelihood or tendency to deceive or 22 confuse the public." Kasky v. Nike, Inc., 27 Cal.4th 939, 951, 119 Cal.Rptr.2d 296, 23 24 45 P.3d 243(2002). It is plausible that a reasonable consumer would rely on the 25 misrepresentation and be misled into believing that the Products are all natural and 26 they are paying a premium for those representations. 27

1 46. Defendant's conduct violates the CLRA, which proscribes certain 2 "unfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive acts or practices undertaken 3 by any person in a transaction intended to result or which results in the sale or lease 4 5 of goods or services to any consumer." Civ. Code, § 1770 (a)(4). The standards for 6 determining whether a representation is misleading under the FAL apply equally to 7 claims under the CLRA. See Consumer Advocates v. Echostar Satellite Corp., 113 8 9 Cal.App.4th 1351, 1360, 8 Cal.Rptr.3d 22 (2003). Conduct that is "likely to mislead 10 a reasonable consumer" thus violates the CLRA. The CLRA is to be liberally 11 construed and applied to promote its underlying purposes, which are to protect 12 13 consumers against unfair and deceptive business practices and to provide efficient 14 and economical procedures to secure this protection. See Civ. Code, § 1760; see also 15 Wang v. Massey Chevrolet, 97 Cal.App.4th 856, 869, 118 Cal.Rptr.2d 770 (2002). 16 17 Plaintiff alleges specifically that the words "All-Natural" are false and misleading 18 because they create the impression that the Products only contain natural ingredients 19 when they do not. These representations violate the CLRA as false designations of 20 21 characteristics and qualities and are likely to deceive a reasonable consumer into 22 believing the Products are "All-Natural." 23

47. On January 30, 2018, Plaintiff mailed Defendant letters to three different locations where it has offices, setting forth its violations of, inter alia, the CLRA.
Those letters were delivered on February 5, 2018, and February 7, 2018. Defendant has failed to respond to the letters.

Notably, Defendants' new 11 website does not contain any reference to "Nellie's All-Natural," although the 12 13 packaging of the pictured Products continues to display the "Nellie's All-Natural" 14 brand and language. 15

18 50. Plaintiff brings this action as a class action, pursuant to Rule 23(a), 19 (b)(2) and (b)(3) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, seeking injunctive and 20 other relief on behalf of himself and all other similarly situated members of the 21 22 Classes. 23 51. Plaintiff seeks to represent a class defined as follows: 24 All persons in the United States who purchased any of the 25 Products (defined in \P 7) (the "National Class"). 26 In addition, Plaintiff asserts claims under California law on behalf of 52. 27 28

23	All persons in California who purchased any of the Products (defined in \P 7) (the "California Sub-Class")(collectively with the National Class, the "Class" or "Classes").
4 5	53. Excluded from each Class are (a) Defendant, including any entity in
6 7	which Defendant has a controlling interest, and its representatives, officers,
8	directors, employees, assigns and successors; (b) any person who has suffered
9	personal injury or is alleged to have suffered personal injury as a result of using the

11	54. Numerosity/Impracticability of Joinder . The members of each
13	Class are so numerous that joinder of all members would be impracticable. Each

16	number of Class members can be ascertained by reviewing documents in
17	Defendant's possession, custody and control or otherwise obtained through
18 19	reasonable means.
20	55. Commonality and Predominance. There are common questions of
21	law and fact which predominate over any questions affecting only individual
22 23	members of each Class. These common legal and factual questions, include, but
24	are not limited to, the following:
25 26 27	a. whether Defendant engaged in a pattern of fraudulent, deceptive and misleading conduct targeting the public through the marketing, advertising, promotion and/or sale of the Products;
28	b. whether Defendant's acts and omissions violated California consumer protection law and breached express warranties;
	19 CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

1 are in the millions of dollars, the individual damages incurred by each Class 2 member resulting from Defendant's wrongful conduct are too small to warrant the 3 expense of individual suits. The likelihood of individual Class members 4 5 prosecuting their own separate claims is remote, and, even if every Class member 6 could afford individual litigation, the court system would be unduly burdened by 7 individual litigation of such cases. Individual Class members do not have a 8 9 significant interest in individually controlling the prosecution of separate actions, 10 and individualized litigation would also present the potential for varying, 11 inconsistent, or contradictory judgments and would magnify the delay and expense 12 13 to all of the parties and to the court system because of multiple trials of the same 14 factual and legal issues. Plaintiff knows of no difficulty to be encountered in the 15 management of this action that would preclude its maintenance as a class action. In 16 17 addition, Defendant has acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to 18 each Class and, as such, final injunctive relief or corresponding declaratory relief 19 with regard to the members of each Class as a whole is appropriate. 20 21 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION 22 Breach of Express Warranty (On Behalf of the National Class) 23 59. G	Case 2:18-cv-02818 Document 1 Filed 04/05/18 Page 23 of 27 Page ID #:23
1 2 3	67. Defendant engaged in conduct that violates the CLRA in the following ways:
5 4 5 6	 a. Defendant violated Cal. Civ. Code § 1770(a)(5) by representing that the Products have "all natural" characteristics which they do not have; b. Defendent violated Cal. Civ. Code § 1770(a)(7) by representing
7 8	 b. Defendant violated Cal. Civ. Code § 1770(a)(7) by representing that the Products are "all natural" when they contain synthetic ingredients;
9 10 11	c. Defendant violated Cal. Civ. Code § 1770(a)(9) by advertising the Products as all natural, although it intended to sell them containing non-natural, synthetic ingredients; and
12 13	 d. Defendant violated Cal. Civ. Code § 1770(a)(16) by representing that the Products were supplied as all natural, when they were not. 68. Defendant knew that the Products were not "all natural," and actively
14 15 16	misrepresented the Products as "all natural," even though it knew the Products contain synthetic ingredients.
17	69. Such conduct was likely to deceive, and did deceive, reasonable
18 10	consumers, including Plaintiff, and the information misrepresented would be
19 20	material to a reasonable consumer in deciding to purchase the Products and in
21	considering how much to pay for the Products.
22	70. In accordance with Cal. Civ. Code § 1780(a), Plaintiff, individually
23 24	and as representative of the California Class, seeks injunctive and equitable relief
24 25	for violations of the CLRA, as well as all other relief to which the Court may deem
26 27 28	Plaintiff is entitled.

1 71. Plaintiff has satisfied the notice prerequisites of Cal. Civ. Code § 1782, 2 as he notified Defendant in writing on or about February 7, 2018, about the conduct 3 alleged herein. 4 5 THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION 6 Violation of the California False Advertising Law Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17500, et seq. (On Behalf of the California Class) 7 8 72. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by referenced the allegations 9 contained in the paragraphs above as if fully set forth herein. 10 73. Section 17500 of the FAL proscribes disseminating any statement in 11 12 California "which is untrue or misleading, and which is known, or which by the 13 exercise of care should be known, to be untrue or misleading," with the intent to 14 dispose of any property. 15 16 Defendant has violated § 17500 because it disseminated false 74. 17 advertisements regarding the Products' purported natural quality to members of the 18 public, with the intent to sell the Products. 19 20 75. Defendant knew that the Products contain non-natural, synthetic 21 ingredients, and thus, knew that its statements were misleading and untrue. 22 76. Plaintiff and the members of the California Class relied upon 23 24 Defendant's misrepresentations in deciding to purchase the Products and have been 25 damaged as a direct and proximate result. Had Plaintiff and the Class members 26 27 28

1	known that the Products contained non-natural, synthetic ingredients, they would
2	not have purchased the Products, or would have paid less for them.
4	77. Defendant engaged, and continues to engage, in a pattern of wrongful
5	conduct in the course of selling the Products, including in the State of California.
6 7	Plaintiff, therefore, seeks to enjoin Defendant from continuing to engage in this
8	pattern of wrongful, deceptive conduct, and seeks such other relief as set forth
9	below.
11	FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION
12	Violation of the California Unfair Competition Law Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200, et seq . (On Behalf of the California Class)
13	78. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by reference the allegations
14	contained in the paragraphs above as if fully set forth herein.
15
16	79. Section 17200 of the UCL prohibits any "unlawful, unfair or
17	fraudulent business act or practice" and any "unfair, deceptive, untrue or misleading
18	advertisement."
19
20	80. Defendant has violated the unlawful prong of § 17200 by its violations
21	of the CLRA, as set forth above.
22	81. In addition, Defendant has violated the unfair prong of § 17200
23
24	through the acts described of herein, including, inter alia , misrepresenting that the
25	Products are "all natural" and failing to disclose to consumers that the Products
26	contain non-natural, synthetic ingredients. As a result, Plaintiff and the members of 27
28	the California Class relied on Defendant's misrepresentations in deciding whether
	25 CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

1	to purchase the Products. The misrepresentations were material information that
2 3	would have influenced Plaintiff and the Class members' decisions.
4	82. Defendant has also violated the fraudulent prong of § 17200 insofar as
5	the misrepresentations related to the Products' purported natural quality were likely
6 7	to deceive a reasonable consumer, and the information would be material to a
8	reasonable consumer.
9	83. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's deceptive conduct,
10 11	Plaintiff and the members of the California Class have been damaged.
12	84. Defendant continues to engage in this pattern of deceptive conduct
13	and, thus, Plaintiff and the members of the California Class seek to enjoin
14 15	Defendant from continuing its unfair, unlawful, and deceptive practices.
