Upon information and belief, Defendants have willfully and intentionally committed widespread violations of the FLSA and NYLL by engaging in pattern and practice of failing to pay its employees, including Plaintiff, minimum wage for each hour worked and overtime compensation for all hours worked over forty (40) each workweek.

3. Plaintiff alleges pursuant to the FLSA, that he is entitled to recover from the Defendants: (1) unpaid minimum wage, (2) unpaid overtime wages, (3) breach of implied contract out-of-pocket costs expended by Plaintiff on behalf of Defendants, (4) liquidated damages, (5) prejudgment and post-judgment interest; and or (6) attorney's fees and cost.

percent after April 9, 2011 under NY Wage Theft Prevention Act, (8) 9% simple prejudgment interest provided by NYLL, (8) post-judgment interest, and (9) attorney's fees and costs.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

Wage and Hour Claims

21. Defendants committed the following alleged acts knowingly, intentionally and willfully against the Plaintiff, the FLSA Collective Plaintiffs, and the Class.

22. Pursuant to NYCRR Part 146-2.2 and 29 USC § 203(m), an employer cannot take credit towards the basic minimum wage if a service employee or food service worker has not received notification of the tip credit.

23. At all relevant times, Defendants knowingly and willfully failed to pay Plaintiff and similarly situated employees at least the New York minimum wage for each hour worked.

24. At all relevant times, Defendants knowingly and willfully failed to pay Plaintiff his lawful overtime compensation of one and one-half times (1.5x) their regular rate of pay for all hours worked over forty (40) in a given workweek.

25. While employed by Defendants, Plaintiff was not exempt under federal and state laws requiring employers to pay employees overtime.

26. Defendants failed to keep full and accurate records of Plaintiff's hours and wages.

27. Upon information and belief, Defendants failed to keep full and accurate records in order to mitigate liability for their wage violations. Defendants never furnished any notice of their use of tip credit.

28. At all relevant times, Defendants knowingly and willfully failed to provide Plaintiff and similarly situated employees with Time of Hire Notice reflecting true rates of pay and payday as well as paystub that lists employee's name, employer's name, employer's address and telephone number, employee's rate or rates of pay, any deductions made from employee's wages, any allowances claimed as part of the minimum wage, and the employee's gross and net wages for each pay day.

29. Defendants knew that the nonpayment of overtime pay and New York's "spread of hours" premium for every day in which Plaintiff worked over ten (10) hours would financially injure Plaintiff and similarly situated employees and violate state and federal laws.

30. Defendants did not post the required New York State Department of Labor posters regarding minimum wage pay rates, overtime pay, tip credit, and pay day.

Plaintiff WEIDONG LI

31. From on or about February 06, 2017 to July 05, 2017, Plaintiff WEIDONG LI was employed by Defendants to work as a nail saloon worker at 1702 Chrysler Avenue, Schenectady, NY 12303.

32. From on or about February 06, 2017 to July 05, 2017, Plaintiff WEIDONG LI's regular work schedule ran from from 09:30 to between 20:00 to 22:00 for eleven and a half (11.5) hours a day for seven (7) days a week on "busy" weeks and six (6) days a week on "non-busy" days for between sixty nine (69) and eighty and a half (80.5) hours per week for a total of 74.50 hours each week.

33. At all relevant times, Plaintiff WEIDONG LI did not have a fixed time for lunch or for dinner.

34. In fact, Plaintiff WEIDONG LI had around ten (10) minutes only to eat and even then he was on call, meaning that if customer's order came, his break stopped and he had to do his job.

35. Further, Plaintiff WEIDONG LI did not have any break.

36. From on or about February 06, 2017 to February 07, 2017, Plaintiff WEIDONG LI was paid a flat compensation at a rate of one hundred dollars ($100.00) per day.

37. From on or about February 08, 2017 to March 23, 2017 , Plaintiff WEIDONG LI was paid a flat compensation at a rate of one hundred ten dollars ($110.00) per day.

38. From on or about March 24, 2017 to July 05, 2017, Plaintiff WEIDONG LI was paid a flat compensation at a rate of ninety-five dollars ($95.00) per day.

39. For two (2) weeks from on or about March 24, 2017 to July 05, 2017, Plaintiff WEIDONG LI was not paid at all for his work performed, despite working six (6) days a week for both weeks at the hours as described above.

40. At all relevant times, Plaintiff WEIDONG LI was not paid overtime pay for overtime work.

41. At all relevant times, Plaintiff WEIDONG LI was never informed of his hourly pay rate or any tip deductions toward the minimum wage.

42. Plaintiff WEIDONG LI also needed to pay Defendants seventy dollars ($70) for use of the gas and electricity.

43. Plaintiff WEIDONG LI was given dormitory to live in, along with three other employees, with the market value of such dormitory for one thousand five hundred dollars ($1500) a month.

44. Throughout his employment, Plaintiff WEIDONG LI was not given a statement with his weekly payment reflecting employee's name, employer's name, employer's address and telephone number, employee's rate or rates of pay, any deductions made from employee's wages, any allowances claimed as part of the minimum wage, and the employee's gross and net wages for each pay day in Chinese, Plaintiff's native language.

45. Throughout his employment, Plaintiff WEIDONG LI was not compensated at least at one-and-one-half his promised hourly wage for all hours worked above forty (40) in each workweek.

46. Throughout his employment, Plaintiff WEIDONG LI was not compensated for New York's "spread of hours" premium for shifts that lasted longer than ten (10) hours at his promised rate.

47. As part of Plaintiff's employment with Defendants, Plaintiff WEIDONG LI was required to bear the cost of the purchase of gloves that he needed to perform his duties for Defendants at a rate of five dollars ($5) per box from the employer.

48. In an average month, Plaintiff WEIDONG LI would use twelve (12) boxes of gloves.

COLLECTIVE ACTION ALLEGATIONS

49. Plaintiff brings this action individually and as class representative individually and on behalf of all other and former non-exempt employees who have been or were employed by the Defendants for up to the last three (3) years, through entry of judgment in this case (the "Collective Action Period") and whom were not compensated at their promised hourly rate for all hours worked and at one and one half times their promised work for all hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours per week (the "Collective Action Members").

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

50. Plaintiff brings his NYLL claims pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure ("Fed. R. Civ. P.") Rule 23, on behalf of all non-exempt personnel employed by Defendants on or after the date that is six years before the filing of the Complaint in this case as defined herein (the "Class Period").

51. All said persons, including Plaintiff, are referred to herein as the "Class."

52. The Class members are readily ascertainable. The number and identity of the Class members are determinable from the records of Defendants. The hours assigned and worked, the positions held, and the rate of pay for each Class Member is also determinable from Defendants' records. For purpose of notice and other purposes related to this action, their names and addresses are readily available from Defendants. Notice can be provided by means permissible under said Fed. R. Civ. P. 23.

Numerosity

53. The proposed Class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable, and the disposition of their claims as a class will benefit the parties and the Court. Although the precise number of such persons is unknown, and the facts on which the calculation of the number is presently within the sole control of the Defendants, upon information and belief, there are more than forty (40) members of the class.

Commonality

54. There are questions of law and fact common to the Class which predominate over any questions affecting only individual class members, including:

- a. Whether Defendant employed Plaintiff and the Class within the meaning of the New York law;
- b. Whether Plaintiff and Class members were owed wages;
- c. Whether Plaintiff and Class members are entitled to and paid overtime at their promised hourly wage under the New York Labor Law;
- d. Whether Defendants maintained a policy, pattern and/or practice of failing to pay Plaintiff and the Rule 23 Class spread-of-hours pay as required by the NYLL;
- e. Whether Plaintiff and Class Members were required to pay Defendants for gloves and other business equipment necessary to conduct Defendants' business;

f. Whether Defendants maintained a policy, pattern and/or practice of failing to provide requisite statutory meal periods;

g. Whether Defendants provided a Time of Hire Notice detailing rates of pay and payday at the start of Plaintiff and the Rule 23 Class's start of employment and/or timely thereafter;

h. Whether Defendants provided paystubs detailing the rates of pay and credits taken towards the minimum wage to Plaintiff and the Rule 23 class on each payday; and

i. At what common rate, or rates subject to common method of calculation was and is Defendants required to pay the Class members for their work.

Typicality

55. Plaintiff's claims are typical of those claims which could be alleged by any member of the Class, and the relief sought is typical of the relief that would be sought by each member of the Class in separate actions. All the Class members were subject to the same corporate practices of Defendants, as alleged herein, of failing to pay minimum wage or overtime compensation. Defendants' corporate-wide policies and practices affected all Class members similarly, and Defendants benefitted from the same type of unfair and/or wrongful acts as to each Class member. Plaintiff and other Class members sustained similar losses, injuries and damages arising from the same unlawful policies, practices and procedures.

Adequacy

56. Plaintiff is able to fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Class and have no interests antagonistic to the Class. Plaintiff is represented by attorneys who are experienced and competent in representing Plaintiffs in both class action and wage-and-hour employment litigation cases.

Superiority

57. A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy, particularly in the context of wage-and-hour litigation where individual Class members lack the financial resources to vigorously prosecute a lawsuit against corporate defendants. Class action treatment will permit a large number of similarly situated persons to prosecute their common claims in a single forum simultaneously, efficiently and without the unnecessary duplication of efforts and expenses that numerous individual actions engender. Because the losses, injuries and damages suffered by each of the individual Class members are small in the sense pertinent to a class action analysis, the expenses and burden of individual litigation would make it extremely difficult or impossible for the individual Class members to redress the wrongs done to them. Further, important public interests will be served by addressing the matter as a class action. The adjudication of individual litigation claims would result in a great expenditure of Court and public resources; however, treating the claims as a class action would result in a significant saving of these costs. The prosecution of separate actions by individual members of the Class would create a risk of inconsistent and/or varying adjudications with respect to the individual members of the Class, establishing incompatible standards of conduct for Defendants and resulting in the impairment of Class members' rights and the disposition of their interests through actions to which they were not parties. The issues in this action can be decided by means of common, class-wide proof. In addition, if appropriate, the Court can, and is empowered to, fashion methods to efficiently manage this action as a class action.

58. Upon information and belief, Defendants and other employers throughout the state violate the New York Labor Law. Current employees are often afraid to assert their rights out of fear of direct or indirect retaliation. Former employees are fearful of bringing claims because doing so can harm their employment, future employment, and future efforts to secure employment. Class actions provide class members who are not named in the complaint a degree of anonymity which allows for the vindication of their rights while eliminating or reducing these risks.
